Groundbreaking for Orokawa Foundation Volunteer Building Planned for Fall 2010

Thanks to support totaling $750,000 from the Orokawa Foundation, the expansion of volunteer housing is drawing near. We have been busy firming up plans and working on the permitting for the project and anticipate breaking ground in November 2010. As you can see from the architectural images included herein, the building will blend very nicely into our beautiful campus.

We expect the expansion to be completed in time for use during Camp Sunshine's 2011 season. A total of 10 new rooms are planned, the primary purpose of which is to make room for more Camp Sunshine families who wish to return to volunteer. Including former Camp Sunshine families in our volunteer corps adds depth to the program, and is part of our comprehensive plan of keeping families connected to Camp Sunshine throughout their children's illnesses, and beyond.

Also included in the design is a volunteer lounge which will be a nice space for volunteers to congregate in during their free time.

This support from the Orokawa Foundation brings their total contributions to our endowment and capital campaign to $1,750,000. Other support has been earmarked for the endowment of family sponsorships. A letter from one of the families benefitting from this endowment is included on the next page of this newsletter.

We are grateful for this opportunity made possible by the Orokawa Foundation, and look forward to sharing project progress reports with you throughout 2010 and 2011.

A Place for Families on Treatment and Beyond...

By Nancy Cincotta, MSW, Psychosocial Director

Implicit in the mission of Camp Sunshine is the goal of minimizing the loneliness that one can feel when a child is diagnosed with a life-threatening illness. Within the connections that families make with one another hope is built, hope that comes through feeling understood and feeling connected in the world.

Among the things most helpful for families is to come to know people who are further down the road from where they are on the illness journey. Camp Sunshine is the perfect environment to foster those connections, whether in the population of children with cancer, FA, lupus, or any of the illnesses we serve, or for bereaved families.

Currently there are many families who choose to volunteer, yet it poses an interesting challenge. For each room we assign to a family that wants to volunteer, we add more children to the program, and lose a housing unit for additional volunteers.

Through the generosity of one very special Camp Sunshine family foundation, and its willingness to support volunteerism of Camp Sunshine families, we are building the new volunteer building.

If you have ever had the opportunity of seeing a panel of young adults off treatment share their experiences with families of children on treatment, or if you have ever experienced the excitement when a family with one very rare illness meets another family with that same diagnosis, you understand the unique value Camp Sunshine has in providing hope to families traveling on this journey.

The future of Camp Sunshine is filled with the potential of families helping families in a greater way. Sometimes, when you build the physical structure, you are not only building a building, but also laying a foundation of hope that will truly inspire great things to come.

LETTER FROM A FAMILY SPONSORED BY THE OROKAWA FOUNDATION FAMILY SPONSORSHIP FUND

Dear Orokawa Foundation,

Many thanks for your sponsorship of Camp Sunshine as our family is just completing a wonderful week here in Maine. The setting is beautiful, both serene and centrally located on a campus which has been transformed into a magical wonderland for our children. The many staff and volunteers here all seem to have embraced the same genuine, caring, energetic and service-oriented spirit of this special place.

Three years ago this July one of our twin boys was diagnosed with leukemia. With six months remaining in his treatment protocol, we continue to face many challenges. We have had to endure financial ruin, grim prospects of recovery, countless hospital and doctor visits, time off work, career changes and many faith testing moments. It has been time together as a family that rekindles the fighting fire, that provides a reason to the madness and that gives hope when everything seems to be against us.

Our week here at Camp couldn't have come at a better time! We've had a chance to reconnect, sleep in late, laugh together, and not worry about chores like dishes, laundry, lunch money, bills, cleaning, and homework. Nick has discovered that he is an excellent ping pong and air hockey player, often beating the counselors straight up! Zach has particularly enjoyed learning shuffleboard, new tag games, swimming, and numerous "holes-in-one."

A bright spot for me was the adult banquet—it provided a real opportunity to connect, share, listen, and laugh. I must say that doing karaoke in front of people you've just met—without any alcohol involved—was a terrific time for all!

I know that I will long cherish the memories made here—by having common struggles, hearing creative solutions and learning to laugh again.

*Gratefully,
Darryl, Nick, & Zach*

A GRAND CELEBRATION

The New Balance Foundation Brick Walkway Dedication

By Matthew M. Hoidal, Esq., Executive Director

On June 5th, I awoke at 5 am to thunder and lightning, and a roaring downpour. With the dedication of the New Balance Foundation Brick Walkway just 6 ½ hours away, I crossed my fingers for clear skies and a halt to the deluge. I was hopeful, and knew that there was enough time for the storm to pass. Sure enough, these wishes came true.

Dedication guests searching for their bricks.

At 11:30 am, Camp Sunshine's dining hall was filled with approximately 300 people, and the dedication began. It was a short presentation, with remarks from Camp Sunshine's Founder Anna Gould and Heather MacIsaac from New Balance's Norway, Maine manufacturing facility. Anna Gould expressed Camp Sunshine's deep appreciation to Heather and our friends at New Balance and the New Balance Foundation, for their $250,000 brick walkway matching challenge, and for their generous support over the years. Heather congratulated Camp Sunshine on our completion of the challenge in 2010, and expressed her pride in New Balance's, and the New Balance Foundation's, longstanding partnership with Camp Sunshine.

At approximately 11:50 am, we all headed outside for a ribbon cutting and unveiling of the New Balance Foundation Brick Walkway sign and granite stone in the walkway. The highlight of the ceremony was when Camp Sunshine campers Rachel Sweet and Kaylyn Kersey placed the ceremonial brick in the walkway.

Kaylyn Kersey and Rachel Sweet placing the Transplant Session Brick with Director of Special Events, Michael Smith.

After the dedication, we enjoyed watching guests stroll the walkway looking for their bricks. Some searchers came with paper notes in hand, having already looked their bricks up in our new New Balance Foundation Brick Kiosk, located at our front desk. The kiosk is a directory listing bricks by section, row, and number, so folks can then head out to the walkway and locate their bricks with ease. Whether people knew the location of their brick, or chose to stumble upon it, it was special to see their eyes light up, or in some cases well up with tears, as they found their bricks.

The day was a complete success, and it was the final chapter in a great fundraising campaign with the New Balance Foundation celebrating our 25th anniversary in 2010.

And yet while this particular chapter comes to a close, the growth of the brick walkway and Camp Sunshine continue. Likewise, our appreciation for the New Balance Foundation's generous support lives on, and we are proud to highlight their support in ways that will forever endure on our campus.

LETTER FROM A FAMILY SPONSORED BY THE NEW BALANCE FOUNDATION FAMILY SPONSORSHIP FUND

Dear New Balance Foundation,

My family's story with Camp Sunshine began ten years ago when my oldest daughter Paige was diagnosed with Myelodysplastic Syndrome, which is a pre-leukemic disorder. She was treated with 18 months of chemotherapy, during which time we came to Camp for an Oncology session. We came that week with two little girls, Paige and Alexis, and another on the way. When we returned the following year, we were a family with a new baby boy Evan, and Paige done with treatment. The end of treatment meant a sad end to Camp Sunshine—a place Paige and our whole family felt so much love and joy.

Unfortunately, in July 2004 Paige relapsed with AML,

Acute Myelocytic Leukemia. She bravely fought her disease for eight months. Sadly, we lost our beautiful shining star in March 2005. Paige was never able to return to Camp this time because she spent most of her illness in the hospital.

Evan, Alexis and I have been able to return to Camp for several bereavement weekends. Although neither has any real memories of Camp with their sister, they are making new ones while remembering Paige. I often tell my friend back home that this is where I am "normal." Everyone here has been through the same heartache of losing a child.

In the real world I am a little strange talking to a headstone and leaving her her birthday cupcake—here at Camp Sunshine it is considered part of our new life. In January the question starts, "Have we been accepted? Are we going to Camp?" The bonds of friendship they make are incredible. Year after year they come back together as if no time had passed. It is truly a magical place here at Camp Sunshine.

Even though we only had Paige for seven short years, the hole her passing has left is huge. Camp Sunshine helps us heal a little part at a time. I truly do not know where my family would be without the love and support from all the staff and volunteers at Camp Sunshine. We have become one big family here during our

Thank you so much for your generosity. It is because of wonderful people like you that we can spend a "normal" weekend here at Camp Sunshine. I can never truly express how much we appreciate what you have done for us.

With our heartfelt Thanks,
Heather, Alexis, & Evan

ENDOWMENT OF BRAIN TUMOR PROGRAM

The Growth of Programming for Children With Brain Tumors and Their Families

By Nancy Cincotta, MSW, Psychosocial Director

Since its inception in 1984 Camp Sunshine has always served children with brain tumors and their families. When planning for the 2003 season we decided to pilot a session exclusively for families of children with brain tumors, because the problems faced by these families appeared to be somewhat different from those of other populations that we work with. Unique needs of families did emerge during the session in a program in which children and adults could identify and address some of the issues.

Our first session was born in partnership and with funding from the Children's Brain Tumor Foundation (CBTF), who have continued to be a partner with us for the past eight seasons. CBTF then invited Jenna's Rainbow Foundation to join them in support of Camp Sunshine. Within all of these organizations the commitment to families affected by brain tumors has only grown, with each of us recognizing the range and depth of the burden imposed by the diagnosis of a brain tumor.

Currently Camp Sunshine serves over 300 families of children with brain tumors. As this program has grown, so has the need for support and for securing its future. In addition to the ongoing support from CBTF and Jenna's Rainbow Foundation, we are also extremely grateful for the support from The Hermann Foundation, and others who have joined in our efforts to enable the expansion of our program and its future (see page 7 to learn about two generous endowment gifts from the Viterbi Family Foundation and Have A Chance).

Of particular note is how the families of children with brain tumors have themselves made the commitment to help others in so many ways, including the ongoing development of programs at Camp Sunshine. Lauren's First and Goal, AJ's Polar Plunge, Scotty's Walk, The Long Island Polar Dip, The Virginia Polar Dip, The Great Pumpkin Walk, The Pediatric Cancer Foundation of the Lehigh Valley, Moving Forward, The Jonathan Beech Memorial Concert, The Noyes Brain Tumor Foundation, and several individual family efforts all came together in a memorable moment in Camp's history to provide funding for the August Brain Tumor session this year.

To all of our donors, we thank you. To all of our families, we understand and applaud you. To all of the siblings of children with brain tumors, we hear and support you. To those of you living with brain tumors, we recognize and honor you. Living with a brain tumor is not easy, but the journey is made easier by the synergy of those who choose to join you on it.

ENDOWMENT OF BRAIN TUMOR PROGRAM

Two Gifts of $100,000 From The Viterbi Family Foundation and Have A Chance Help Endow Brain Tumor Program

As you enter the three yellow doors to Camp Sunshine's Viterbi Family Activity Center, you can't miss the sign overhead, recognizing the Viterbi Family Foundation for their generous $1,000,000 gift towards the construction and completion of the 23,000 square foot building. Since it opened in 2001, it has served as a place of respite and refuge for the thousands of families who have stepped foot into in it.

In addition to contributing towards the completion of the campus, the Viterbi Family Foundation has continued to sponsor families on an annual basis, making sure we can treat as many families as possible to the magic of our program. They also invested in the future of Camp Sunshine by supporting our endowment with a gift of $150,000 in 2006, and now again with a gift of $100,000. Specifically, their newest gift will help endow Camp Sunshine's brain tumor program in perpetuity. This program has grown and become a vital resource to families and children.

"We are impressed by how far Camp Sunshine has come, and proud to support their incredible life-saving and life-changing work for families of children with brain tumors," said Dr. Andrew and Mrs. Erna Viterbi.

We are grateful to the Viterbi Family Foundation for their unyielding compassion and commitment.

As you may recall from our last newsletter, Camp Sunshine recently received a gift of $40,000 from Have A Chance for the purchase of a new van. We are excited to announce another generous investment of $100,000 from Have A Chance towards the endowment of Camp Sunshine's brain tumor program.

of a decade to fund research and care for those battling brain tumors. They know the value of a program like Camp Sunshine to families of children with brain tumors, and through their investment in our future, they want to ensure the program continues for many more years to come. We are grateful for their continued support.

We are also especially thankful to Amy Reiling and her family for bringing Camp Sunshine to the Have A Chance team's attention. Feeling grateful for the experience of attending our program with her family in 2009, Amy introduced Have A Chance to Camp Sunshine. Through her advocacy, Amy has helped pave the way for more families like hers to attend our program for years to come.

Have A Chance was founded by the Roth family, who lost their son and brother Jeff to a brain tumor in 2003. The Roths would since ensure that their devastating loss would not be in vain, and have worked tirelessly for much

JTG FOUNDATION MATCHING CHALLENGE

The JTG Foundation $250,000 Matching Challenge Reaches $175,000 Mark!

After witnessing Camp Sunshine successfully celebrate its 25th Anniversary in 2009, the JTG Foundation (a Maine-based organization founded by John T. Gorman, Jr. in 1995) offered Camp Sunshine a gift that would help it continue its momentum and leverage the opportunity of this historic moment in the organization's history. The gift is in the form of a challenge, matching all gifts of $25,000 and above to Camp Sunshine's endowment in 2010, to a total of $250,000. Once complete, the JTG Foundation Matching Challenge will result in a gain of $500,000 toward Camp Sunshine's $14.5 million Momentum Endowment & Capital Campaign. "This matching challenge is a reflection of the incredible work Camp Sunshine does to support children facing life-threatening illnesses through programs designed for the whole family," said Shawn Gorman, president of the JTG Foundation. "Our gift, and the funds raised through our challenge, will endow 20 family sponsorship funds in perpetuity, providing the resources to help families connect and support each other for years to come."

The JTG Foundation began sponsoring families at Camp Sunshine in 2005, and supported the construction of the new Parents' Discussion Room in 2008 with a gift of $100,000.

The Sukoff Family: David, Laurie, Jacob and Ava

To date, $175,000 has been raised towards the challenge, from the following donors: David & Laurie Sukoff committed the first $25,000 in January 2010. "Investing in the future of Camp Sunshine is crucial. We are extremely pleased to be a part of the matching challenge from the JTG Foundation, and we take comfort in knowing that it will benefit many more families for years to come," said David and Laurie Sukoff.

David is a Camp Sunshine Board Member who, along with Laurie, daughter of our founders, gave $50,000 to Camp Sunshine's endowment in 2003.

Matt & Linda Ramsden committed the second gift of $50,000 towards the challenge through Jack's Magic Bean Fund. "Jack's Magic Bean Fund is committed to supporting families affected by pediatric cancer at all stages of their journey. We fund ground-breaking research for a cure, but we also know that we cannot win this fight without providing care to the families that it has touched," said Linda Ramsden. "Camp Sunshine's Bereavement Program has been instrumental in helping to mend our broken families, so that those families can in turn go back out and fight the good fight. We have been able to help many families through the work of Jack's Magic Bean Fund and I know that we wouldn't have had the wherewithal to start this organization without the healing that takes place whenever we head to Casco, Maine. Camp Sunshine makes our Magic Bean grow!" Their gift is made in memory of their son Jack, who passed away from cancer in 2005, and will be used to endow a bereavement family sponsorship fund.

An anonymous donor, who had already given $25,000 in 2007 to endow a family sponsorship fund, gave the third gift of $25,000.

The Billy Burchard Foundation committed the fourth gift of $25,000, honoring the life of Billy Burchard, who died of pancreatic cancer at the age of 48.

The Carol J. & K. David Hancock Charitable Trust committed the fifth gift of $25,000. Carol Hancock stated,

"We have partnered with Camp Sunshine since the very beginning, and make this additional investment in its future so that families can continue to find respite here for years to come." This is the second gift of $25,000 from the Trust to Camp Sunshine's endowment.

The Elmina B. Sewall Foundation gave the most recent gift of $25,000, bringing the total raised to date to $175,000 towards the $250,000 goal. "We are grateful for this opportunity to leverage our resources towards a matching gift from the JTG Foundation, and proud to help enhance Camp Sunshine's capacity to serve more families of ill children," said Jay Espy, Executive Director.

To learn how you can participate in the challenge, please contact Camp Sunshine's Executive Director Matt Hoidal at (207) 655-3800 or mhoidal@campsunshine.org.

Happy 25th Birthday Camp Sunshine!

In celebration of Camp Sunshine's 25th Anniversary in 2009, Camp's Psychosocial Director Nancy Cincotta, Medical Director Dr. Andrew Eichenfield, and son A.J. gave a birthday gift of $25,000 to Camp Sunshine's endowment.

For decades Nancy, Andy, and AJ have generously given of themselves personally, professionally, and financially to Camp Sunshine. We remain grateful for all they continue to do for Camp and the families we serve.

If You Plan, They Can Come...

Below are examples of planned gifts made to Camp Sunshine in recent years. These illustrate the vehicles that allow people to give to charity during their lifetime and/or after death, while meeting current income needs and providing for heirs. Planned giving is typically done in conjunction with estate planning, and is a viable option for donors of all income levels.

From a donor's perspective, planned giving is attractive for many reasons. It may allow you to make larger gifts than you otherwise could out of your current assets. Depending on how a planned gift is set up, it may also let you receive a stream of income for life, earn higher investment yield, or reduce your capital gains or estate taxes. Planned gifts often appeal to people who want to benefit a charitable organization, but aren't certain how much of their assets they'll need for themselves during their lifetimes.

Where There's a WILL, There's a Way!

Are you at a stage in life where you would love to make a five, six, or even seven figure gift to Camp Sunshine and major investment in its future, but feel you will never be in the position to do it? For some, doing so during one's lifetime is not a reality. However, through a bequest and gift by will, you may be able to build and grow your assets over time, and direct the liquidation and distribution of these assets, property, and cash to Camp Sunshine upon your death. This is exactly what one Camp Sunshine donor did before her recent passing.

Katherine L. Derrig of Portland, Maine passed away on December 25, 2009 at the age of 92, leaving the entirety of her estate to Camp Sunshine. Valued at over $400,000, this is the largest estate gift ever received by Camp Sunshine. The gift will be added to Camp Sunshine's endowment, and will help the future of the program for years to come.

Katherine L. Derrig

Ms. Derrig never volunteered at Camp Sunshine and had no family connection to the program. She made a handful of contributions to Camp Sunshine over the past several years, none of which would have ever signaled the enormity of what was to come. According to the administrator of her will, Ms. Derrig was a quiet woman who enjoyed reading Camp Sunshine's newsletters and was apparently very impressed and taken by our mission. This gift illustrates the potential for planned giving to have a tremendous impact on the future of Camp Sunshine.

On the heels of learning about Ms. Derrig's bequest, Camp Sunshine was informed of yet another bequest. Shelton A. Brooks passed away on March 1, 2010, leaving 10% of his estate to Camp Sunshine. This is an interesting story because Mr. Brooks had never supported Camp Sunshine during his lifetime. Instead, he learned of Camp through his advisor and longtime Camp Sunshine donor Paul Marshall. This is another example of how people can make significant investments in Camp Sunshine even if they cannot do so within their lifetime. Additionally, it is a great example of how friends of Camp Sunshine can encourage others to give.

Charitable Gift Annuities: Win-Win Giving

R. Milton "Mickey" Gray loved Camp Sunshine, and sponsored families every year for ten years before calling Camp in 2006 to set up our first ever charitable gift annuity. Milton was 91 years old, and for a $25,000 gift to Camp Sunshine, the annual payout to him was equivalent to 11.3 % of the principal contribution, or $2,825, until his passing in 2008.

A charitable gift annuity involves a contract between a donor and a charity, whereby the donor transfers cash or property to the charity in exchange for a partial tax deduction and a lifetime stream of annual income from the charity. When the donor dies, the charity keeps the gift. The amount of the income stream is determined by many factors including the donor's age and the policy of the charity. Most charities, including Camp Sunshine, use payout rates defined by the American Council on Gift Annuities.

The charitable gift annuity is a great option for people like Mr. Gray who need a steady income, but want to make a significant irrevocable gift to Camp Sunshine during their lifetime.

Gifts of Stock

Every year a number of Camp Sunshine donors choose to pay their endowment pledges or make other gifts to Camp Sunshine through transfers of stock directly from the donor's investment account into Camp Sunshine's account. It's a very easy process, and can have its advantages. Giving a gift of publicly traded stock that has increased in value and that you have owned for more than one year may provide greater tax benefits than giving cash. Your charitable income tax deduction is equal to the fair market value of the stock and you avoid paying the capital gains tax on any increase in the current value over the original cost of the stock.

Charitable Rollover of IRA

The IRA Charitable Rollover was first enacted in 2006 and expired on December 31, 2009. The provision allowed individuals aged 70½ and older to donate up to $100,000 from their Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) to public charities without having to count the distributions as taxable income. Several Camp Sunshine donors have taken advantage of this provision, and we are hopeful that the provision will be extended into the end of 2010. We will be sure to keep you posted on any developments.

Creative Gift Giving Ideas: Gifts of Real Property & Life Estates, Gifts of Art, Gifts of Private Equity, & Other Non-Traditional Assets

The majority of gifts to Camp Sunshine come in the form of cash or appreciated securities, and with the stock market having increased considerably this past year, securities are an appealing way to give once again. However, donors should not limit their thinking to stock and cash, and should additionally or alternatively consider giving real-estate, art, private equity and/or other non-traditional assets.

Whenever a donor is interested in giving non-traditional assets, the gift must be reviewed by Camp Sunshine before it can be accepted. This helps the donor as well as Camp Sunshine, because it prompts discussions about the eventual use of the gift, tax implications, costs, etc. Though the process may sound complex, it is not.

Please contact Camp Sunshine's Executive Director Matt Hoidal at (207) 655-3800 or mhoidal@camp-sunshine.org if you are interested in planning your gift to Camp Sunshine.
